Special Education Legal Update- Attorney Vasudevan will be reviewing federal regulations, state regulations, and case law involving the following topics:

- Requests for independent education evaluations
- Student records
- Bullying laws
- Foster care students
- Receiving attorney's fees from parents/parents' attorneys and
- School refusal.

Review of these topics will focus on take-home lessons for school administrators and staff.

Atty. Felicia Vasudevan is an associate at Murphy, Hesse, Toomey & Lehane in the Education Law Group working on regular and special education issues.

Ms. Vasudevan received her Bachelor's Degree from Stanford University, with a major in Public Policy. She received her Juris Doctor degree from Harvard Law School and a Master of Public Policy from the Harvard Kennedy School of Government. While in law school, Ms. Vasudevan participated in the Tenant Advocacy Project, a negotiation clinic, and interned at Massachusetts Appleseed and at the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights. Prior to law school, she taught high school mathematics for two years in San Jose, California, as part of Teach for America, and trained the incoming Teach for America Corps Members at Teach for America's Summer Institute. During law school, she was awarded the Education Pioneers Fellowship and the Rappaport Fellowship.

She currently practices on behalf of public school districts, educational collaboratives, charter schools, and private schools in a wide range of education law issues, including student discipline, civil rights, due process rights of school employees, state and federal regulatory compliance, and special education dispute resolution. Ms. Vasudevan has also conducted numerous workshops and staff trainings on developments in special education law, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act, student discipline, student and public records, conflict of interest law for school employees, bullying, physical restraint, and student civil rights issues.
